AT THE COUNTER

Made for the way you sell

Tap a bodysuit, pick the colour and the age size, and the counter shows how many are left; diapers go by their size, and the child's usual size is remembered for the next visit. Formula and baby food keep their batch and expiry so the oldest is sold first, strollers and car seats keep their serial number for recalls, car seat fitting and stroller assembly go on the same bill with a ready date, and the Baby shop dashboard shows what sells by tab and brand.

Colour × age size stock

Clothes keep their colours and age sizes (0-3M to 18-24M), diapers their sizes (NB to 6); the counter shows what is left of each.

Formula batches and expiry

Record the batch and expiry of formula, baby food and creams on the purchase; the expiry board shows what expires soon so it is sold first.

Stroller and car seat serials

The serial number of strollers, car seats, breast pumps and monitors is kept with the sale, for recalls and warranty claims.

Fitting and assembly

Car seat fitting, stroller assembly and cot assembly at home as services with a ready date and a fitting ticket.

Baby shower gifts

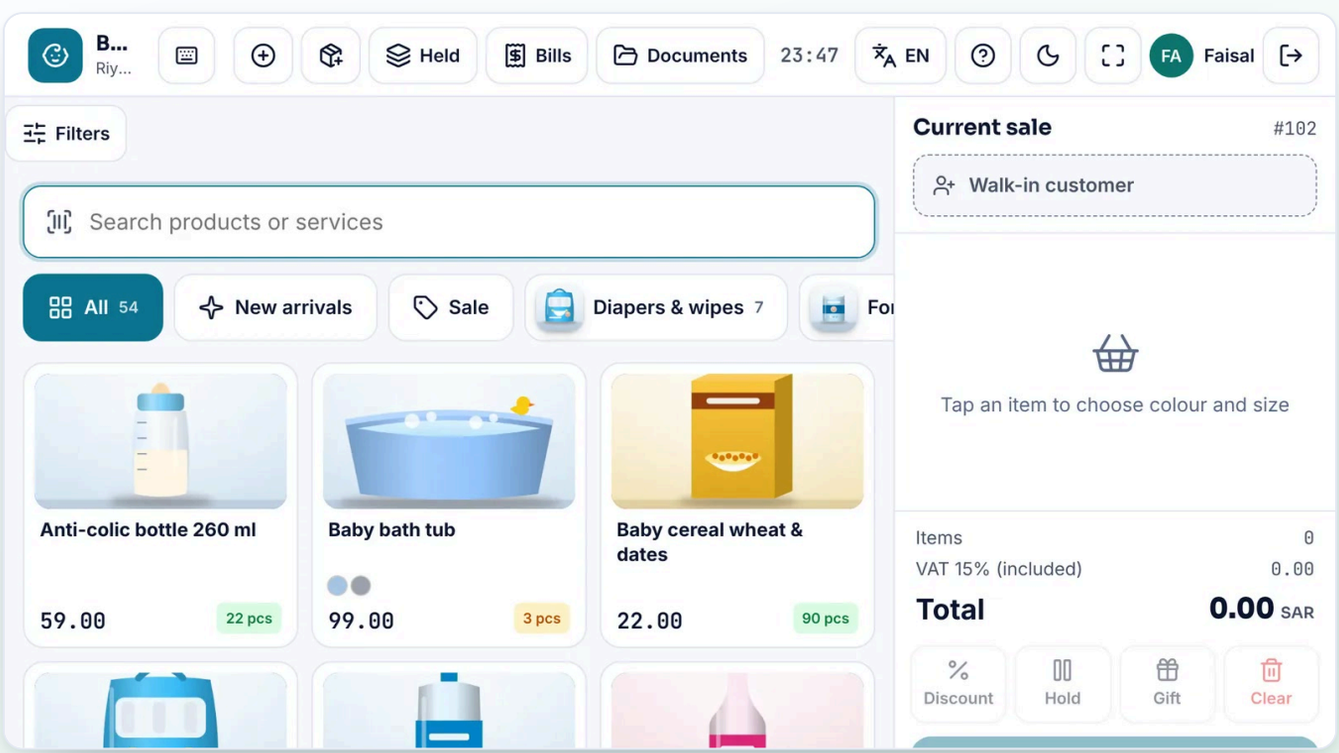

Gift wrap and card, gift hampers, name embroidery and a gift receipt without prices.

Baby shop dashboard

Diapers, formula, clothes and gear by tab and brand with margin, the top items, fitting against goods and returning parents.

Ideal for

Questions owners ask

Can I sell clothes by age size and diapers by size?
Yes. Clothes come in their colours and age sizes and diapers in their sizes; with the Colour & size variants add-on the counter shows what is left of each, and the child's usual size is marked for returning customers.

How do I stop formula from expiring on the shelf?
Add the Batch & expiry dates add-on: record the batch and expiry when the formula arrives, and the expiry board lists what expires soon with its value, so you sell it first or return it in time. StartAI Radio also says it aloud.
