AT THE COUNTER

Made for the way you sell

Bill an OPD consultation, an emergency visit, a CT scan or a caesarean package at the front desk with the patient, the doctor and the IP (admission) number on the line. Admissions, surgeries and deliveries open on the Admissions board and move to in ward, discharge ready and discharged; room, ICU and nursing days go on the same IP number. The Hospital dashboard shows revenue by department, OPD and emergency visits, tests, patients in now and the average length of stay, and each doctor's revenue and visits. The ward pharmacy keeps its stock and batches, and patient records, prescriptions and insurance claims are add-ons.

OPD and emergency

GP, specialist, consultant, paediatric and obstetric consultations, emergency visits, observation hours, ambulance transfers and casts, each billed with the patient and doctor.

Admissions board

Each admission, surgery and delivery opens with its IP number and admission day and moves to in ward, discharge ready and discharged.

Rooms, ICU and nursing

Ward beds, semi-private and private rooms, VIP suites, ICU and NICU by the day, nursing care and inpatient visits on the patient's IP number.

Laboratory and radiology

Blood counts, kidney and liver panels, coagulation, troponin and cultures, X-ray, ultrasound, CT, MRI, mammograms and echocardiograms, with the date results are ready.

Surgery and maternity packages

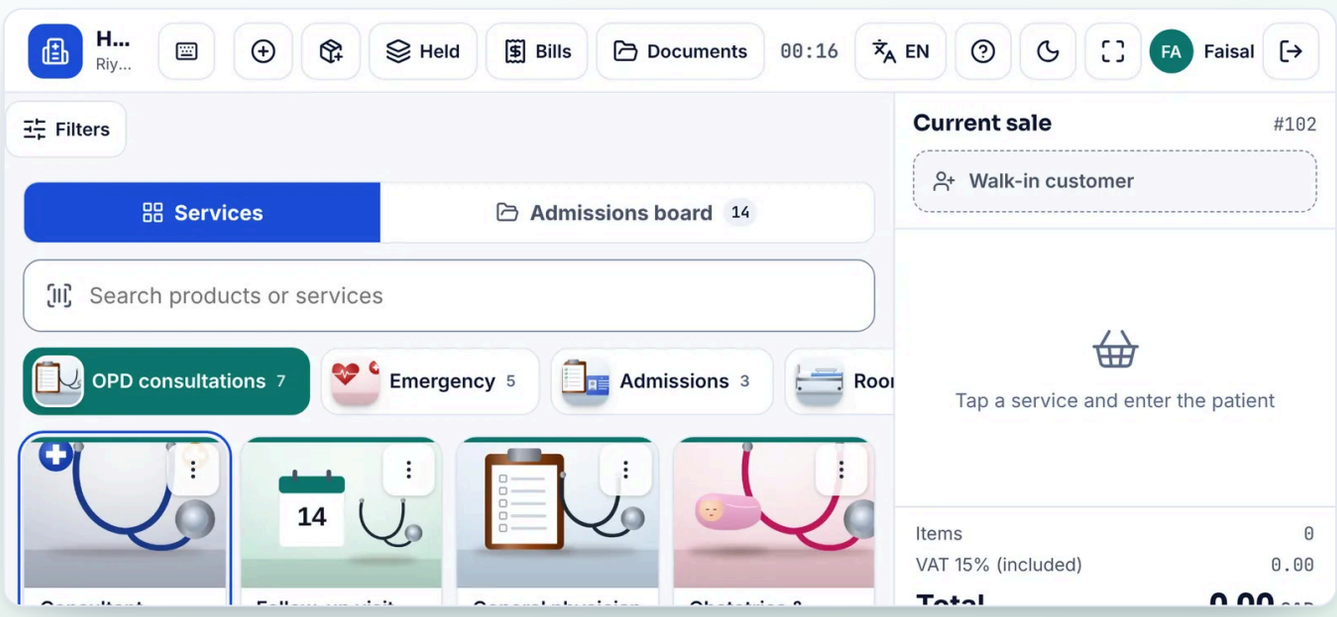

Appendectomy, gallbladder, hernia, knee arthroscopy and cardiac catheter packages, theatre hours and anaesthesia, normal and caesarean delivery packages.

Hospital dashboard

Revenue by department, OPD and emergency visits, lab and radiology tests, patients in now, discharges and the average length of stay, and each doctor's revenue and visits.

Questions owners ask

Can room and ICU days go on the patient's admission?
Yes. Every inpatient line carries the IP number, so the room, ICU, nursing, lab and pharmacy charges of one stay are found together, and the admission is followed on the Admissions board until discharge.

Does the invoice show the patient's diagnosis?
No. The invoice line carries the patient, the doctor, the IP number and the dates only. Diagnoses stay in the Patient records add-on, open only to clinical staff.
