AT THE COUNTER

Made for the way you sell

Sell interior and exterior paints, enamels, varnish, primers, waterproofing and spray paints by brand, finish and can size, with the brushes, rollers, fillers and thinners that go with them. Tint a base to the colour code the customer asks for, or pick the colour you mixed for them last time with its tints scaled to this can size, write the batch / shade number on the invoice so the next can matches, and sell to painting contractors on their contract prices and credit terms or to a home owner at the shelf price.

Tinting to a saved colour

Type the RAL, NCS or fan deck code on a can, or pick the customer's saved colour; its tints show in ml for this can size, ready for the tinting machine.

Base + tint costing

Each formula costs the base can plus every tint at its cost a litre against the price of the tinted can, so the colours sold below cost or on a thin margin show first.

Finish, can size and base

Find a paint by its finish (matt, silk, gloss), its can (1 L, 4 L, 18 L) and its base, in ten sections from interior paints to thinners and tapes.

Batch and shade numbers

Write the batch / shade number of each can on the invoice line, and keep batches with their shelf life, so more cans for the same wall match.

Contractors on credit, walk-ins at the shelf price

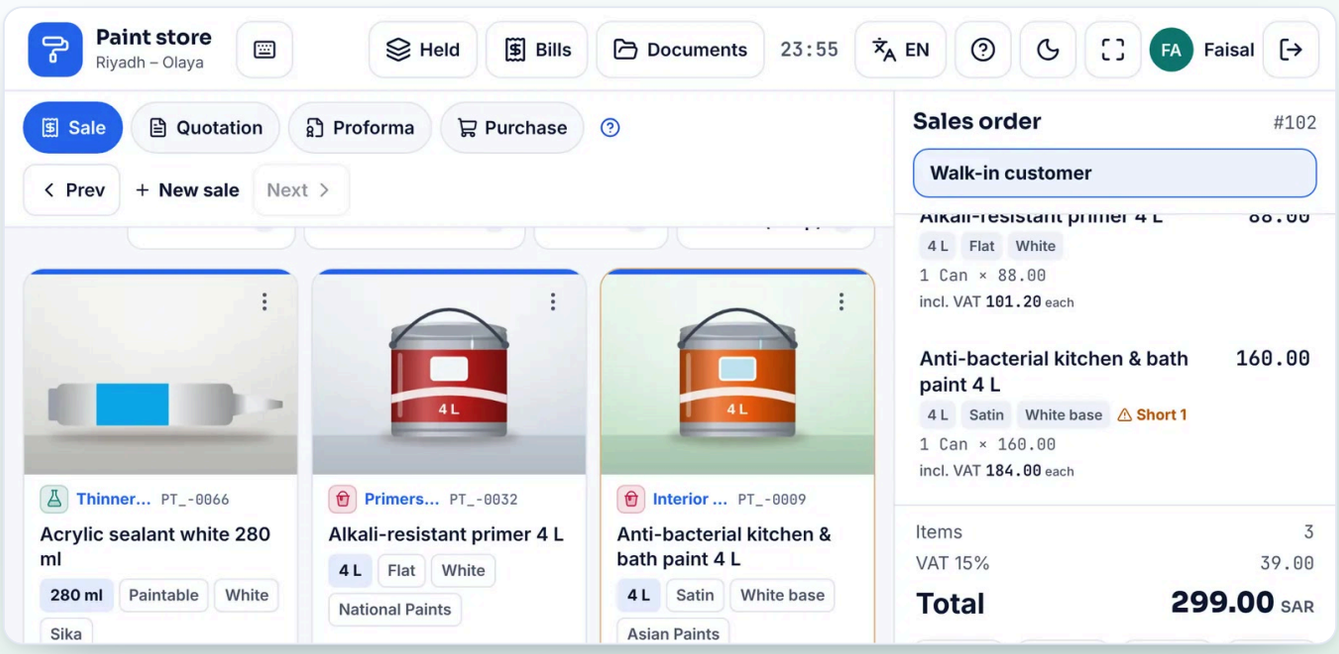

Contractors, painters, developers and facilities teams buy at contract prices on 30 to 60-day terms with their credit left on screen; a home owner pays the shelf price.

Tools, sundries and services

Brushes, rollers, fillers, sandpaper, thinners and tapes on the same bill, with tinting, colour matching, sample pots and site delivery as services.

Questions owners ask

Can I save the colour I mixed for a customer?
Yes. With the Tint formulas add-on each colour keeps its code, base paint, can size and tints in ml; next time pick it on the counter and its tints show for the new can size.

Do I know what a tinted can costs me?
Yes. Each formula adds the base can's cost and every tint at its cost a litre, against the price of the tinted can, and lists the colours sold below cost or under 15% margin first.
