AT THE COUNTER

Made for the way you sell

Bill a client company for a 30-seat bus with driver this month, a weekly truck, a staff route or drivers for the client's own vehicles. Each line carries the client, vehicle, driver and contract period, the invoice goes to the company's account, and every contract runs on the Contracts board until it ends and is settled.

Monthly and weekly contracts

Buses, vans, pickups, trucks and executive cars with drivers, billed per month or per week; the quantity is the number of months or weeks.

Client vehicles or your own

Supply drivers for the client's own vehicles, run their fleet, or send your own buses and trucks, each on its own line.

Staff and school transport

Staff routes per month and school transport per student, with the route and pick-up points on the invoice.

Client, vehicle and period on the invoice

Every contract line prints the client company, plate, driver, start and end dates, so the client can match it to its records.

Contracts board

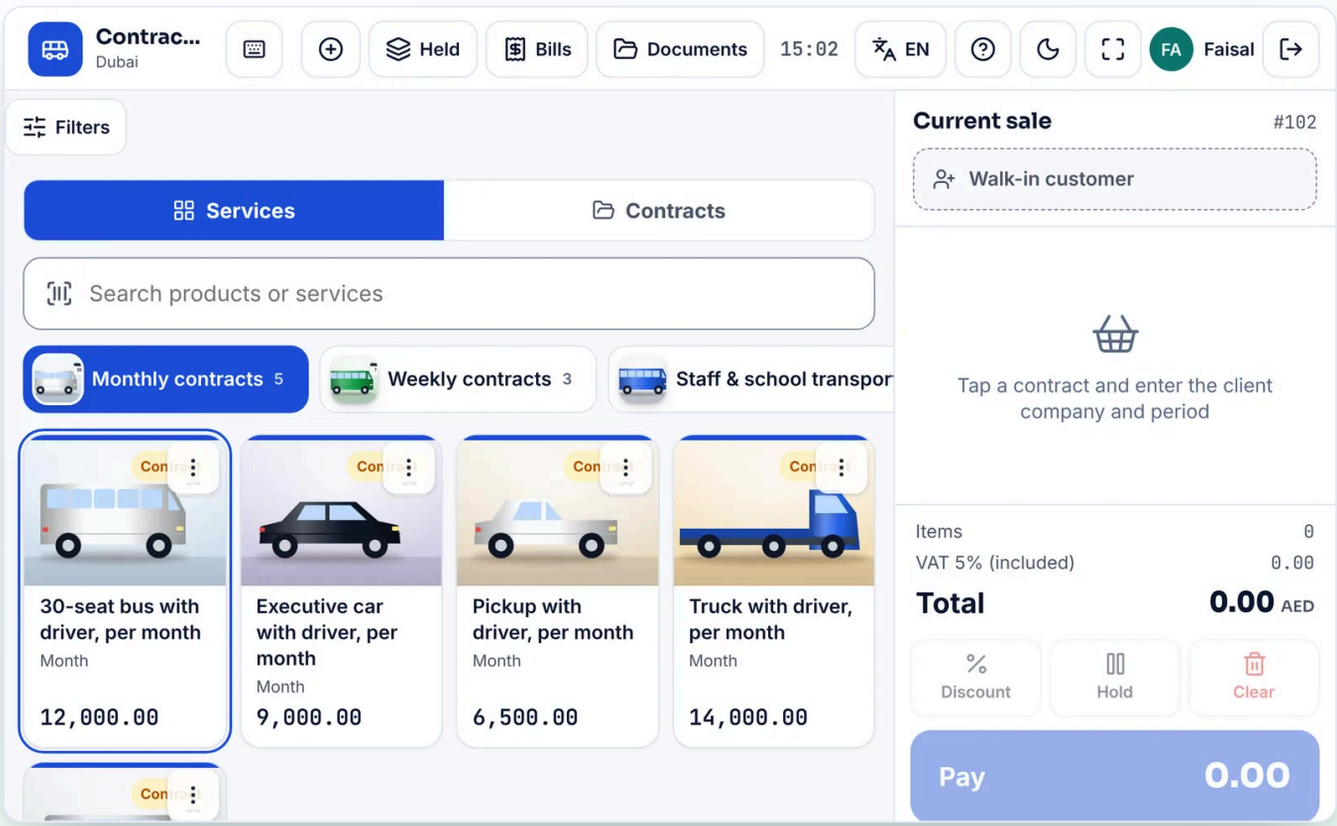

Each billed contract moves from signed to running, ended and settled, with its end date shown.

Overtime, trips and extras

Driver overtime by the hour, replacement vehicles, intercity trips, event shuttles and fuel as agreed, on the same account.

Ideal for

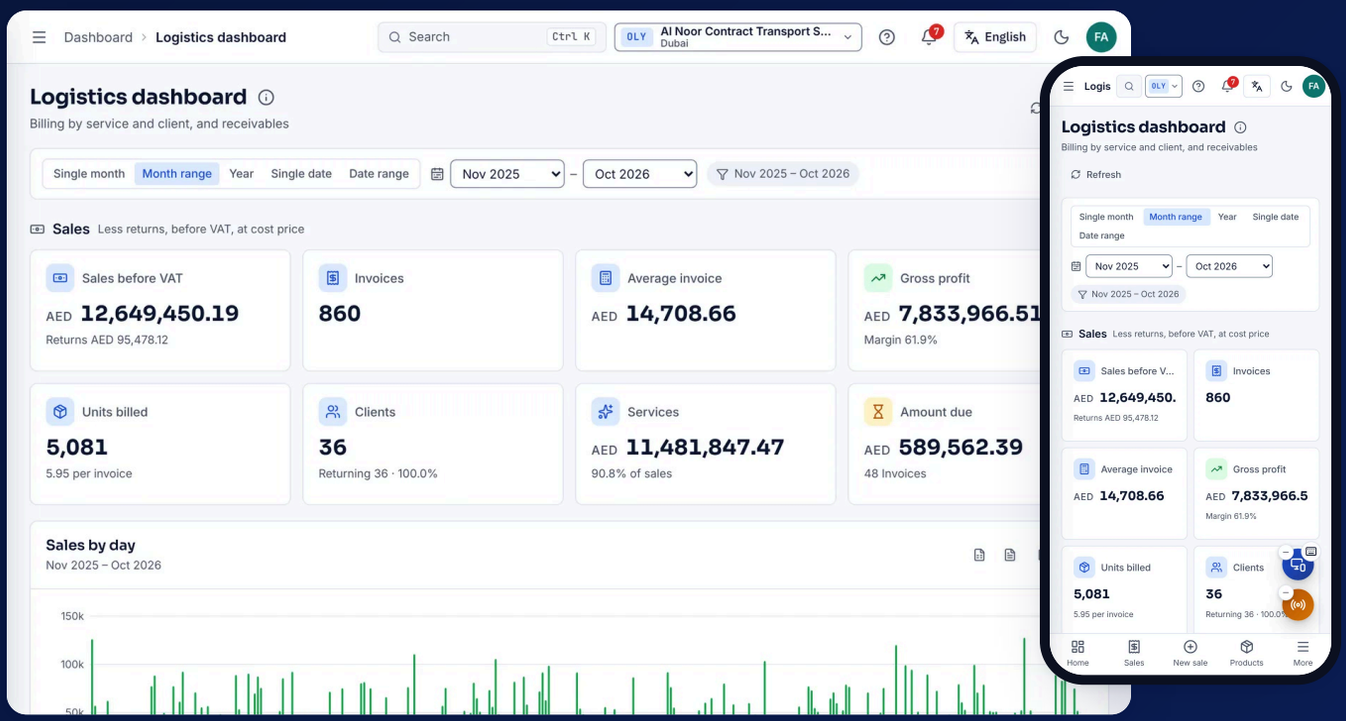

- Staff and labour transport companies
- School and university transport
- Truck and equipment hire with drivers
- Driver supply for company fleets

Questions owners ask

Can I bill a company every month for the same contract?
Yes. Bill the month on account with the contract period on the line; the invoices build up on the company's statement and ageing.

What if we drive the client's own vehicles?
Use the Drivers on client vehicles tab: the line carries the client's plate and your driver, and only your service is invoiced.
